ADDITIONAL FRONT MATTER

Front matter after the Contents, List of Figures, and List of Tables may include none, any, or all of the following sections and should be in the order listed:

FOREWORD

PREFACE

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

ACRONYMNS AND ABBREVIATIONS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY OR SUMMARY

ABSTRACT

Each section in the front matter begins on an odd page. The abstract, if less than half a page, may begin on page 1 before the body of the report.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Margins should be 1 in. all around (bottom should be 0.5 if using page numbers; top should be 0.5 if using headers).

If paragraphs are indented, 0.25 is a standard paragraph indent. If indents are used, there should be no space between paragraphs.

*Footnote indicators are used in the following order: *, †, ‡, **, ††, ‡‡. If author date references are used, then superscript Arabic numbers may be used as footnote indicators.*

1. FIRST-ORDER HEADING (CAPS, BOLD, CENTER; STYLE=HEADING1)

The body of the report can be numbered continuously (1, 2, 3, etc.) or by section (1-1, 2-1, etc.) with Arabic numbers at the bottom of the page. Reports of fewer than 100 pages are usually numbered continuously. If you use the heading styles in this template, numbering and spacing above and below headings will be set up automatically. If you don't use the heading styles, insert two blank lines before headings (except first-order headings) and one blank line after.

1.1 SECOND-ORDER HEADING (CAPS, BOLD, FLUSH LEFT; STYLE=HEADING2)

If paragraphs are indented (0.25 is a standard paragraph indent), there should be no space between them. If preferred, paragraphs can be flush left with one blank line between paragraphs. If you use the template style for "normal" text, paragraphs will be indented automatically.

1.1.1 Third-Order Heading (Cap-Lowercase, Bold, Flush Left; Style=Heading3)

Begin text.

1.1.1.1 Fourth-order heading (Initial cap, bold, flush left; style=heading4)

For headings immediately followed by another heading (rather than paragraph text):

- If you're using styles, change the paragraph spacing after the first header to 2 points for that heading only (select Format, Paragraph, Spacing after, 2 pt).
- If you're not using styles, insert one blank line only between the two headings.

Unnumbered fifth-order heading (initial cap, bold, paragraph indent; style=heading5). One blank line precedes the heading. Text follows the heading on the same line.

Unnumbered sixth-order heading (initial cap, bold and italic, paragraph indent; style=heading6). Text follows the heading on the same line.

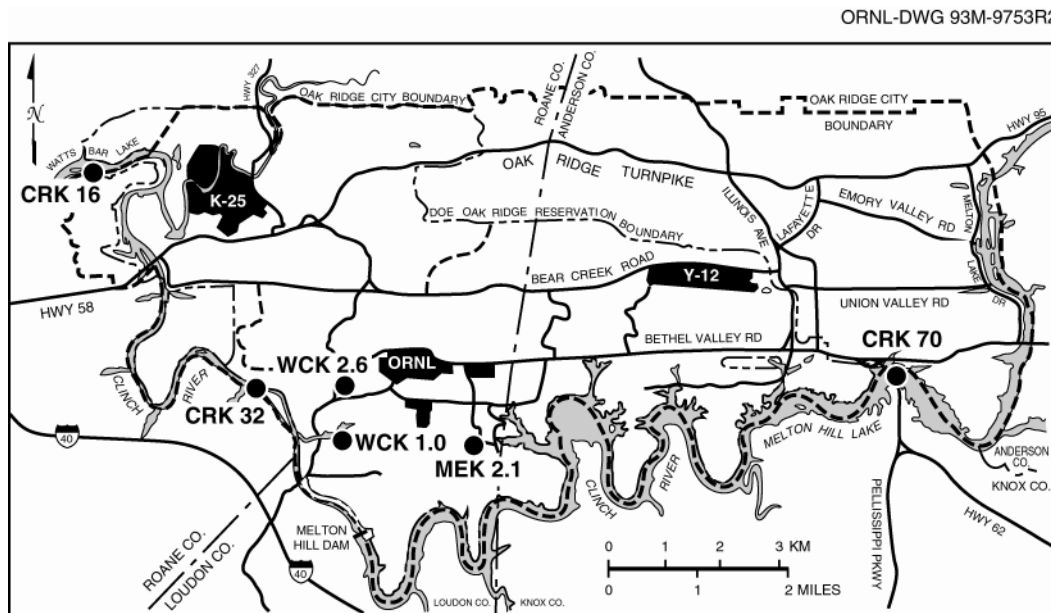

*If author-date references are used, then superscript Arabic numbers may be used as footnote indicators. If footnote symbols are used, they should appear in the following order: *, †, ‡, **, ††, ‡‡.<sup>1</sup>*

<sup>1</sup>Footnote numbers begin again with 1 on each new page (or with an asterisk * if symbols are used). Footnotes are 9 point type. The separator line should have a spacing of 0.160 above and 0.020 below with the length at 2 in. The space between notes (if more than one falls on a page) should be 0.

2. FIGURES

Figures should follow the first reference to them in the text as closely as possible. Figures are numbered consecutively except in large reports, where they may be numbered by section (Fig. 1.1, Fig. 1.2, etc.). In text, references to figures are abbreviated Fig. or Figs. when they appear with a number, except at the beginning of sentences. All figures should have a drawing or photo number for identification purposes. Copyrighted figures should include a credit line (see Fig. 1).

Fig. 1. Figure captions that run more than one line are paragraph indented.
The first sentence of the caption is bold; any other description is regular. Source: Oak Ridge Reservation Annual Site Environmental Report For 1992, Vol. 1, Martin Marietta Energy Systems, Inc., Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Sept. 1993.

3. LISTS

Bullet lists are recommended for items that are not referenced elsewhere and that do not indicate chronological order. For example,

The linear accelerator is composed of three types of accelerators:

- drift-tube,
- coupled cavity, and
- superconducting.

Enumerated lists are recommended for items that are referenced elsewhere in the document and/or that do indicate chronological order. For example,

1. Change the door status to “Controlled Access Mode.”
2. Select Power Permit Mode.
3. Turn on warning horns and lights.
4. Change door status to “Power Permit.”
5. Turn off warning horns after time delay.
6. Enable rf and electrical devices.

4. TABLES

As with figures, tables can be numbered consecutively or by section and should follow their reference in the text as closely as possible. Tables may be formatted in a smaller point size to accommodate large tables.

Table 1. Table title is bold, centered, and initial capped only (no period at end of title)<sup>a</sup>
Column heads are regular, centered, and initial capped only

EM project	Recycling method	Amount recycled (lb)	Cost ($)
			Recycling	Disposal	Storage
Metals recycle	Smelting	1,072,000	1,565,763	1,338,447	1,608,000
Cooling-tower <sup>b</sup>	Decontamination	459,000	605,880	573,120	688,500
Totals		1,601,150	2,266,491	2,004,973	2,401,725

<sup>a</sup>Footnote callouts for tables are lowercase, italic, superscript letters in sequence from left to right, then top to bottom.
Footnote text is in 9 point type.

5. REFERENCES

The author-date system is recommended, based on guidelines in the Chicago Manual of Style (The University of Chicago Press, latest edition). The following examples show the correct format for some commonly used references. In the text, author and date appear in parentheses. References are listed alphabetically at the end of the report or article. For more detailed information, please see the Chicago Manual of Style.

APPENDIX A. TITLE OF APPENDIX

If each appendix contains similarly formatted information that can begin with a first-order heading, flysheets are not necessary. If first-order headings cannot be used for some appendixes, such as with computer data and forms, a flysheet should be used for all appendixes in a given report to avoid confusion.
